UNCERTAIN WHICH WAY TO TURN-MUCH TALK ABOUT CLEVELAND AND FLOWER,

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] WASHINGTON, June 12.-Mr. Tilden's letter was the main topic of discussion to-day among politicians in Washington. Some Republicans were disposed to believe it does not finally settle in the negative the question as to whether or not Tilden will be the Democratic candidate, and a few Democrats were found who professed to share this belief. One or two of them said: "The other candidates will now come to the front, and when the convention assembles the party will be so torn by discussions, not only as to candidates, but as to the platform, that it may be necessary to draft Tilden into the service." The general opinion, however, is that the declaration is final, and that the party must seek another candidate. The situation is regarded as serious by some of the more thoughtful Democrats, one of whom remarked: "I find among Republican Congressmen a disposition to assert that Tilden declines to be a candidate because he expects a Republican victory and shrinks from a contest in which there would be a strong probability of his own defeat. Of course, I do not admit the existence of such a probability or motive, and yet the publication of this letter at so late a date lends color to both, and it will, I fear, produce a chill among the Democrats in many States. I do not understand wity the letter was kept back so long. Tilden's physical condition is no worse now than it was three months ago, before the party in any State or County had declared in favor of his candidacy. He speaks of the assurances given by his confidential friends from time to time that he would not be a candidate, but he seems to forget that contrary assurances have been quite as numerous from men who were supposed to be equal possessors of his confidence." "WHOM DOES TILDEN WANT?"

Democratic Congressmen who are regarded as possible or probable "dark horses," are, of course, happy, but they have suddenly developed an amazing capacity for reticence. They are not willing to express themselves with freedom either in regard to the letter or their own prospects. Among the Democratic Representatives whose ambition does not soar so high as to bring the Presidential prize within the reach of their imagination there is a feeling of intense bewilderment. They remind one of a swarm of bees that has lost its queen. They are full of speculation, and nearly every one is ready to suggest a ticket that can win; but all of them are anxious to have an answer to the question: "Whom does Tilden want ?" It does not follow that all the Democratic Congressmen are willing to accept Mr. Tilden's choice, for a great many who belong to the free-trade wing are bitterly hostile to him, and would be glad to defeat any man whom he might recommend. What these Congressmen say about candidates is of consequence only as showing the drift of Democratic comment, for very few of them will participate as delegates in the proceedings of the National Convention and not many of the others are supposed to possess much ability to influence the preferences of delegates in their respective States.

SOME OF THE TICKETS SUGGESTED. At least a score of tickets was suggested to-day by different Democratio Representatives. Among them were the following:

hem were the following:
Cleveland and McDonald.
Cleveland and Carlisle.
Cleveland and Morrison.
Bayard and Melbonald.

The frequent mention of Mr. Flower's name seemed to be caused by an impression among some of the Democrats that his friends will be likely to control the New-York Convention, the action of which is looked forward to with great interest, and no little auxiety. It was noticeable that the name of General Butler did not seem to occur to any-

Representative Van Alstyne, of the Albany District, said to a Critic reporter that the Tilden letter will stimulate the Cleveland boom; that Cleveland will have the solid New-York delegation at his back; that Tammany will support him; that he is Tilden's choice, and that he can carry New-York by 35,000 majority. Mr. Van Alstyne also declared that "General Slocum has no real strength."

"CLEAR AS A BELL AND STRONG AS A CYCLONE."
Representative Breckenridge, of Arkansas, described the letter as being " as clear as a bell and strong as a cyclone," but expressed regret that it ot been withheld until the convention assembled, because " now we will have a continual uproar until after the convention shall have completed its work." Mr. Cassidy, of Nevada, 'who visited Tilden some time ago, to ascertain whether or not he would be a candidate, was very much surprised by the letter. "I firmly believed," said be, that Mr. Tilden was a candidate. I was firmly convinced that he would make the race. It looks now a good deal like Cleveland."

Mr Moulton, of Illinois, thinks the letter is one of the best ever written, the only trouble being that it was not written long ago. Mr. Moulton thinks that Cleveland will be nominated. He said: I am in favor of his nomination, and do not think a better man could be found." As Mr. Moulton comes from the same State that Colonel Morrison does, his attitude is by some regarded as rather significant.

Mr. Hurd had expected such a letter from Tilden, and thinks that if the New-York Convention is for him Cleveland will be nominated.

Mr. Clardy, of Missouri, does not think that Tilden's declination necessarily means Governor Cleveland's nomination.

General Forney, of Alabama, said: "We are talking of Sloeum and Voorhees-New-York and In-Slocum was a great soldier, and is strong in New-York, and Voorhees could carry Indiana." Representative Cuiberson indersed the Slocum-

Mr. Cox thinks that unless New-York unites in presenting the name of a great, strong man," who will have her entire support, the State will come back from the convention with one of her citizens on the ticket as Vice-Presiat the head.

the opinion that the Tilden letter materially helps Governor Cleveland.

Mr. Dorsheimer announces to-day that he is not a caudidate for the nomination, and that his name will not be used, but that he will advocate the nomination of Cleveland.

Colonel Morrison thinks the Tilden letter is a strong one, but he declines to discuss the situation.

Mr. Holman says it is an "American classic." He said it would take some time for affairs to become settled, as to the probabilities of the nomination.

Mr. Murray, of Ohio, thinks that the determination of Mr. Tilden is fortunate, and now that the field is open, Cleveland will be nominated, with a Western man, probably McDonald, second on the ticket.

Mr. Spriggs, of Utica, the friend of Tilden, thinks that Cieveland stands a good chance. The State of New-York, he thinks, will control the convention.
Representative Bagley, of New-York, thinks that McDonald would be strong in that State, and that either Slocum or Flower would be stronger than Cieveland, who, while he might command the most strength in New-York city, would not be so strong elsewhere. sewhere.

Another New-York Congressman expressed the pinion that none of the New-York candidates

MR. TILDEN'S DECLINATION. would be successful, because there are too many of them.

A Southern Democrat who has devoted a good deal of attention to a study of the probabilities as to candidates, said: "Flower is strong in the South. Now that Tilden is out of the way, I expect to see Virginia vote for Flower almost solidly on the first ballot. He is also very strong in Kentucky, Tennessee, and Louisiana, and I believe at least half the Alabama delegation will support him from the beginning. He has also some strong friends in Georgia. Besides, he is the second choice of the Bayard men, who will go to him as soon as it shall appear that Bayard cannot be nominated."

THE FEELING AMONG DEMOCRATIC SENATORS.

THE FEELING AMONG DEMOCRATIC SENATORS. Senators were found to be rather reticent when asked about the probable effect of Mr. Tilden's letter. Not a few declined outright to state whom they favored as their candidate for the nomination, giving as their reason for such a course the fear of offending the "dark horses," Others, on the other hand, were outspoken in their preferences. Mr. Colquitt, of Georgia, Gorman, of Maryland, Ransom, of North Carolina, and McPherson, of New-Jersey, all pronounced themselves in favor of Bayard. A all pronounced themselves in favor of Bayard. A majority, however, look upon Cleveland as the only man who could possibly carry New-York against Blaine, but even of this they do not speak with any degree of assurance. They seem to think that if Cleveland entered the convention with the solid support of the New-York delegation, he would undoubtedly receive the nomination. Flower's little barrel looks tempting to many, but is not considered quite large enough to go around. The attitude of John Kelly, too, fills the minds of Democratic Senators with distrust and causes friends of "dark horses" to lie awake nights. All wish they could get rid of him.

attitude of John Kelly, too, fills the minds of Democratic Senators with distrust and causes friends of "dark horses" to lie awake nights. All wish they could get rid of him.

The Tilden letter in itself was admired for a variety of reasons, chiefly, it would seem, for its style and diction. Senator Ransom pronounced it
"a good letter." Senator McPherson called it "great." Senator Colquitt regarded it as one of "the most magnificent productions he ever read."
Senator Vest extolled it in the highest terms, and said that it would cause the convention to nominate Tilden in spite of himself. Senator Vance was "mighty well satisfied with it," an expression which might be interpreted as meaning that he was glind the party is rid of the "old man."

There was apparent unanimity, however, to select the best" man, a phrase which can always be applied with perfect safety before the convention.
Senator Colquitt is a little more outspoken perhaps than others. "I am in favor of taking our best man," he said to-day in advocating the claims of Mr. Bayard upon the country. "He represents the true principles of Democracy. He is a pure, upright and able man, to whom you can safely intrust public interests." Governor Colquitt also thought that "bloody shirt" arguments had seen their day. He considered Bayard's loyalty to the Government unquestioned, notwithstanding the celebrated Dover speech of 23 years ago. It is understood that the friends of Bayard have caused a newspaper containing that speech to be circulated and distributed in every direction in the hope of meeting all hossile criticism by a bold and defiant attitude, which after all is not very well calculated to deceive the intelligent voters of the country.

Senator Kenna, of West Virgina, is another of the cautions men. He is for the "strongest" candidate. So is Camden, his colleagne, Both regard Mr.
Tilden's letter as final. Senator Butler spparently favors the nomination of Cleveland, though he,

WHAT IS SAID IN NEW-YORK. THE DECLINATION THOUGHT TO BE FINAL-WHAT

General Thomas Ewing, of Ohio, was found in his lawoffice, No. 155 Broadway, by a TRIBUNE reporter, who asked of him for his opinion upon Mr. Tilden's letter. He

"It is the first utterance of Mr. Tilden that is po in its tone. It means beyond any question that he will not accept the nomination. There is a lottiness of purpose and expression in the letter that cannot be ignored. His declination is genuine and actual. The ground upon which he puts it—his lack of physical trength-makes that point clear. Then I have still other evidence."

"I saw Mr. Tilden yesterday morning before his letter was given out. He told me all about it, and I had a long talk with him on the subject. I had called to inquire upon the very point his letter settles. His language to me was plain and positive. I have seen him four or five times within a year, and have never before been able to obtain any clear statement from him. What he said to me was: 'I could not take the nomination and accept the Presidency as a mere routine and perfunctory mat-ter. I should want to be President in all the name implies.' That is the whole thing in a nutshell. Mr. Tilden does not feel equal physically to the task of making the canvass and inaugurating the reforms that will be inbent on a Democratic President.

Who do you think will be the nominee ! " "He should be a man who is strong physically as well as mentally. Mr. Tilden will use his great influence to as mentally. Mr. Indee with the country and his counsel will go a long way toward bringing the party into power. I taink Cleveland will probably be the nominee."

John Kelly, when spoken to on the subject, said that he accepted Mr. Tilden's declaration as final, but preferred to say nothing more at present. Other opinions heard about the City Hall were as follows:

Navor Edson: "I regret that Mr. Tilden should have accepted Mr. Tilden's declaration as final, but preferred to say nothing more at present. Other opinions heard about the City Hall were as follows:

Mayor Edson: "I regret that Mr. Tilden should have felt called on to decline, although it does not surprise me. I have been so overcome with an accumulation of work that I have not carefully considered who is likely to be the candidate of the Democracy."

Commissioner Hubert O. Thompson: "Mr. Tilden's letters has been looked for for several days. It therefore does not surprise me, although I regret the necessity for It. It is a masterpiece of tecuposition, and shows how clear-headed he is notwithstanding his physical infirmity. My choice now is Governor Cleveland. He will receive a large independent vote if nominated, and can be elected." "I am a Republican, and therefore my opinion counts for little in this matter. It is a good thing in so far as it removes one element of uncertainty prior to the Chicago Convention."

Register John Reilly: "I believe that Samuel J. Tilden could easily be elected President. If he does positively decline to be a candidate after being nominated by accismation, then I think General Hancock should again be nominated. Still I would be well satisfied with Senator Bayard.

"Does it take him oat of the race!"

"Oh yes. The old man means it—that is the long and the short of it. There was no necessity for him to write it, unless he meant it, for he could have had the nomination without asking."

"Whom will the Democrats nominate!"

"That is one of the things we are all at sea about. It is now an open race. Any Democrat can carry New-York, and almost any Democrat can carry Ohio."

"What about Payne or Hoadly!"

"I don't think Payne is a candidate. I know Judge Hoadly is not a candidate in the sense of doing anything to secure the nomination. I know of no man in the United States other than old Tilden who would decline a nomination. Hoadly would be a strong nominee. He could carry Ohio and carry the Independent Republicans with him all over the country. All know him to be a pure and honest man.

In addition to the internal evidence in his letter, which shows it to be sincere, I am convinced that the condition of his health would prevent him from assuming the onerous duties of the Presidency. It is a great pity that Mr. Tilden, who is better qualified than any other man in the country to carry out to completion the reform movement he inaugurated, should not have the strength to continue it to the successful end. He has the intellect and the will power, but not the physical ability."

"Where do you think the nomination will go?"

"That is a hard matter to predict. Cleveland is much talked about. But I would not like to say who will secure the nomination. Ohlo is a State that must be regarded with consideration. It will be the preliminary skirmish ground. The moral effect of a victory one way or the other in Ohlo in October would be almost decisive in the November election. I have great faith that the Democrats will carry Ohlo as they did last year and the year before."

MARYLAND WANTED BAYARD BEFORE.

BALTIMORE, June 12.—Maryland Democrats regard Tilden's declination in two different ways. They regret that he refuses to become the candidate, and yet rejoice that it is so. Their regret is caused by the fact that in him a majority of the party saw a most available candidate at this time. Their rejoicing comes from the fact that now they are left free to express their popular choice for the distinguished Senator from Delaware, Bayard. There can be no doubt that the sentiment in Maryland is overwhelmingly in timent in Maryland is overwhelmingly in favor of Mr. Bayard. Ever since the Greeley campaign of 1872, when Mr. Bayard in the convention held in Baltimore protested against the blunder of nominating Greeley, and won for himself warm praise for his pluck and ability, he has been highly esteemed by Marylanders. All the leaders would have preferred Bayard to Tilden so far as personal choice was concerned. Now, Tilden being out of the way, it is altogether probable that Maryland will return to her first choice and east her sixteen votes for Mr. Bayard, as she did four years ago.

INDIANA DEMOCRATS DEPRESSED.

IBY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNG. Indianapolis, June 12.—The Tilden letter is a wet blanket on the Democracy of the State. The general sentiment is that the tariff muddle destroyed all hope of success in Indiana with any candidates except Tilden and Hendricks. With few exceptions, Democrats insist on nominating the "old ticket" and refuse to listen to on nominating the "old ticket" and refuse to listen to Tilden's declination unless made in favor of Hendricks. McDonald's free trade ideas would cost the Democrats the State and Democratic candidates for State offices are much depressed over the fear that they cannot swim in the wake of the "old ticket." The Republicans are jubilant, as the Democracy is now compelled to stand on its record. Hendricks is the only Democrat that they fear.

IBY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE. CLEVELAND, June 12 .- Mrs. Oliver Mansfield, who has suffered for seven years, and been confined to her bed nearly the whole of that time, and was bent out of her natural shape by a curvature of the spine, suddenly arose, while the other members of the family were absent, put on her shoes and walked out into the garden without any assistance whatever. She not only walked, but walked erect, which is the strangest part of the affair. When Mrs. Mansfield reached the yard she threw up her hands and exclaimed "By faith I am saved." "My wife had not walked a step since last May," said Mr. Mansfield. "If you had seen her a week ago, you would have said she could never sit up, to say nothing about walking. She could not have done if without the help of the Lord. My little girl ran to me and said that her mother was walking, and sure enough, there she was in the yard, standing up as straight as any-body. I was dumfounded for a moment, but I went to her and she walked back into the house and around the room hefore going back to bed. Since then she has been up and is growing stronger, and there she sits now, strong in the Lord." only walked, but walked erect, which is the strangest

MANY POOR PEOPLE LOSE THEIR DEPOSITS—RUMORS OF WRONG DOING.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 12 .- The doors of the State Bank of West Virginia, this city, were closed this morning. The liabilities are $129,000. The assets are reported to be $115,000. The principal losers are poor people, who had small sums deposited. There are many ugly rumors affoat on the streets. The supposition is that the bank will pay 50 per cent, but it is doubtful if it pays over 20 per cent. The bank has been considered weak for some time, but the citizens continued to deposit with it. The officials of the bank received deposits yeswith it. The officials of the bank received deposits yesterday up to 3 o'clock. The depositors are anxiously awaiting an investigation. The state of West Virginia had $8,000 deposited in the bank.

Excitement runs high and little business has been done here to-day. A slight run was made on the Kanawha Valley Bank, when the doors were opened at 9 o'clock this morning, but as every check was promptly paid the run ceased after an hour. During the run on the Kanawha Valley Bank many of the largest business men made heavy deposits. The Kanawha Valley Bank has over $150,000 in its vaults and is solid.

EGYPT AND THE CONFERENCE. THE STORY OF THE CAPTURE OF BERBER.

REAFFIRMING THE FACT OF THE MASSACRE-THE MEETING OF THE POWERS-TREATY WITH

LONDON, June 12 .- The Times last night received a dispatch from its correspondent at Wady-Halfa. who writes that Berber surrendered twelve days ago, and that the reports of the massacre were true The correspondent had been informed that the rebel commander had collected 100,000 men around Berber. After the fall of Berber, 30,000 Arabs were sent to invest Dongola. The Governor of Dongola was ignorant of the surrender of Berber, and telegraphed to Wady-Halfa that no news had come down the river. This is in direct conflict with the statement made yesterday in the House of Commons, by Lord Edmund Fitzmaurice, Under Foreign Secretary, to the effect that messengers from Berber had reported that city safe as late as June 3. Until reports which are unquestionably authentic arrive, the fail of Berber is considered problematical.

The Egyptian correspondence of the Government has been made public. In a recent message to General Gordon, Earl Granville, Foreign Secretary of State, says that inasmuch as the original plan of evacuating the Soudan has been dropped, General Gordon should consider measures for removing himself and the faithful Egyptians with him from their present position. The Foreign Secretary authorizes General Gordon to expend whatever money may be necessary for this purpose.

THE BARTHOLDI STATUE AND THE TARIFF. Paris, June 12.-M. de Lesseps, in responding to a toast last night at Minister Morton's banquet in honor of the completion of the Bartholdi statue, said that he hoped, when the statue of Liberty Enlightening the World reached America the Americans would be good enough to repeal the clause of their tariff law which weighs so heavily upon foreign works of art.

SUNK BY AN ICEBERG. Halifax, N. S., June 12 .- The barkentine Ethel Blanche, from Charlottetown, P. E. I., for Liver-pool, ran into a huge feeberg on the eastern line of the Grand Banks on June 4, and filled in twenty minutes. Her crew was saved and brought to North Sidney by the Norwegian ship Betzy and Arnold, from Liverpool for Quebec.

PAPER INFLATION IN CUBA. HAVANA, June 12 .- The present decline of gold, about 17 points in a formight, is attributed to spec ulation founded on the daily reports from Madrid respecting the reforms intended for Cuba; and several speculators, who bought paper money largely when it was up to 250 on the persuasion that some reforms, how-ever small, had to come, are now realizing a profit. The public, however, is far from satisfied. Hitter complaints are heard touching the indifferent spirit in which reforms so vital to Cuba are considered in Madrid.

A MEXICAN VIEW OF BLAINE. Mexico, June 12, via Galveston.-The newspapers continue discussing the nomination of Blaine. La Libertad, anti-American, says it hopes for the election of Blaine, for Mexico has more to fear from a friendly President than from one who is avowedly hostile, regarding it as more to the interest of Mexico to deal with her neighbor in a spirit of a want of confidence and reserve than to hobnob with traitors who pretend to be friends in order to become matter.

THE REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN

RATIFICATION MEETINGS IN NEW-YORK.

EARNEST AND HEARTY SUPPORT PLEDGED ON ALL SIDES TO THE CHICAGO NOMINEES. Chairman John R. Lawrence presided at the meeting of the XVIIIth Assembly District Republican Committee last night, at its rooms, No. 498 Third-ave. It was the first assembling of the Republicans of the dis-trict since the nominations were made at Chicago, and although the association had sent delegates piedged

ner's jury investigating the death of Nellie D. Cooley, have at length found a verdict. At their former meetings the guardian of Miss Cooley, E. P. Darling, refused reneminate President Arthur, there was not to produce the note which she left behind her, and in this a sign to indicate anything else than a per-fect and sincere satisfaction at the work of the convention. So strong was the feeling in favor of the action was supported by the acting coroner, D. F. Donohue. The jury insisted on seeing the note, and refused to sign any verdict without it. At their meeting last week nominations that every time the name of either Mr. the Coroner warned them that future meetings would be Blaine or General Logan was mentioned it was received at their own expense. To-night they met again, and after with applause. At the close of the meeting three rousing over two hours' deliberation drew up and signed a verdict cheers and a deafening "tiger" were given for "Blaine and Logan, the next President and Vice-President of the over two hours' deliberation drew up and signed a verdict in which they found that Neilie D.Cooley came to her death about December 8, 1883, either by needdent or other cause not known to the jury. From the meagre evidence produced, however, they believe that she committed suicide by drowning in the Susquehanna River. The verdict concludes: "This jury, however, do not feel Justified in dismissing this matter without putting on record the fact that important evidence touching her death has been purposely withheld from them and that this was done with the full knowledge of the acting corone, although the jurors repeatedly requested that this evidence be produced."

It is generally supposed that the rote contains the true explanation of the unfortunate ght's death, and that there is some cause therein assigned that her friends have an interest in withoiding from the public. However this may be, the case is now ended and the last act of this mournful tragedy has closed. Bernard Biglin was called upon to relate his experience at Chicago and he said frankly that he had done all be could to nominate President Arthur, " but," he continued, "we failed. James G. Blaine was nominated and his name was received by every good Republican with the determination to elect him." A vote of thanks was given to Mr. Biglin for his efforts at Chicago, and then J. L. Hastie offered resolutions. 'indorsing" the nominations, and declaring the intention of the association to "spare no effort and omit no exertion to roll up a majority for our candidates." The meeting also resolved to attend the inauguration of President Blaine on March 4, 1885. After the resolutions were adopted manimously and with cheers, J. P. Jardine made a stirring speech upon the duty of the members of the association to work forthe solidification of the party until the campaign opens in September. Chairman Lawrence then appointed a committee to nominate officers, and plan an organization of a Blaine and Logan Campaign Club. The committee consists of John R. Lawrence, J. C. P. Jardine, J. L. Hastie and J. Cowen. Charles G. Cronin said last night at the meeting of Colonel A. B. Farnham, who presented Mayor Samuel F. Humphrey to deliver an address of congratulation. Mayor Humphrey complimented Mr. Boutelle upon the part he had performed in the week at Chicago, which had placed before the people of this country the only stratist Republican ticket which could have been named. Mr. Boutelle in responding disclaimed the demonstration as merely personal to himself, saying that it was an evidence of the feeling of satisfaction and pride with which the nomination of James G. Elaine and of John A. Logan were received by the Republicans of Bangor. The allusions to Blaine and Logan were received with hearty cheers. Mr. Boutelle predicted that the papers that now, through malice or spite, oppose Mr. Blaine's nomination, will soon be wheeling into line, as they see the advance of the great army of Republican voters. A Blaine and Logan Club will be formed here on Monday. the Executive Committee of the Twelveth Ward Repub-lican Club: "I was for Arthur; I am for Blaine, There never was a fairer, more representative body of delegates in the history of the Republican party than that at Chicago. I have talked with some of the most pronounced Arthur men and Edmund mon, and not one has said that there was the slightest indication of anything unfair. It was a Blains convention from the time of the calling of the first roll. The people of New-York must know one thing; that is, the Twelfth Ward is for the nominces of the convention. Sinclair Adams said: "Blaine will come down the Har-lem River with 100,000 majority. The Democrats will have to scramble to beat that, and they won't have Tib-den and his barrel to help them." Russell L. Richardson said: "If the Republican party with Blaine at its head can't give us a clean, honest Administration, we needn't look to the crowd that has opposed it for twenty-four

The committee adopted a resolution heartily "indors-PITTSBURG, June 12 .- The Coroner on May ing" the nominations and pledging its support "from this 29 held an inquest on the body of an infant which was found in the Monougahela River, near Bessemer Station. time until the closing of the polls on election day." committee was appointed to arrange for a ratification neeting to be held at an early day.

The Arthur Union of the XVth Assembly District, at a meeting at No. 472 Eighth-ave., on Wednesday evening, adopted resolutions cordially approving the action of the Chicago convention, and pledging support to the nominees. A Elaine and Logan Club was formed.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the Vith Assembly District, No. 80 Cliaton-st., on Wednesday night, a resolution was adopted "most carnestly and heartily ladorsing" the platform of the National Republican Convention, and ratifying the nominations of Blaine and Logan. Thomas J. Lockwood, James H. Folan and Michael Sherry made addresses.

At a meeting of the Garnet Club (colored) Monday evening, 9th instant, at No. 224 East Eightieth-st., letters were read, unanimously adopted and forwarded, congratulating Mr. Blaine and General Logan upon their nomination. J. E. Peterson presided and speeches were made by C. W. Phillips, P. A. Walten, Jr., S. S. Brown and others. The others are S. G. Craig, president; R. W. Adams, vice-president; L. A. Phillips, sceretary; R. J. Miles, assistant sceretary; C. Spencer, treasurer. This morning the mother and a Hungarian, named John Andred, were brought to this city and lodged in the county jail. The mother makes the following statement:

"The father of the child is in the old country. Andrech told me to drown the child. He said that he would marry me, and if anything show I turn up he would send me back to the old country. . an twenty-two years old. He told me that the laws of this country were not severe, and that I could drown the child without fear. The child was then three weeks old. Androch told me that he would leave his wife and take me away from Braddock. I have been here six months. I never thought of drowning the child and hadroch told me to."

Androch says that he is innocent, that he was acquainted with Helena before they came to America, and that she left Hungary for fear of arrest on the charge of murdering two of her infants. Androch is thirty-two years old, and has a wife and two children.

Foliett was in the chair. The meeting was evidently ready to receive, the result of the convention with entire approval, for when the chairman happened o say in the routine business at the beginning," if we elect Mr. Blaine," he had to pause several minutes before adding "and I'll help you do it," while a storm of applause swept over the hall. Then General T.B. Conway presented resolutions heartily approving the ticket as one which would make the Nation honored at home and abroad if elected and calling upon all good Republicans to unite in support of the work of one of the fairest con-ventions ever held in the party. While the resolutions were being read the chairman unrolled and shung up a portrait of Mr. Blaine, at which the audience rose to their feet, swung hats, clapped hands, pounded cancer. and finally burst out with three rousing cheers for "Jim Blaine and Black Jack." About fifty members of the old Republican Club were present. They amounced themselves heartily in favor of the Republican Club were present. They amounced themselves heartily in favor of the Republican ticket and confident of its election. Q. C. Do Groove, president of the organization, called the meeting to order. "We are here," he said, "to vote by the nomination of the Republican Convention at Chicago, We know that with many the candidates named twere not favorites. But we could not all be satisfied and we are not here to night to grumble, but to assent." Resolutions were passed "indorsing" the Republican ticket and a campaign committee of twenty was decided on, to be reported at the next meeting. A member inquired where the meeting had been advertised. The chairman said that it had been advertised in The Brooklyn Union. J. A. Barker, John H. Kemble and ex-Alderman Robert Carson were called on to speak. They amounced themselves thoroughly satisfied with Blaine and Logan and said that they intended to vote and to work for them.

A hearty meeting was held by the Twenty first Ward Republicans in Cosmopolitan Hall, at De Kalb and Throop aves. Henry A. Philips presided. James R. Allabea offered resolutions expressing strong confidence in and approval of the pixiform and the nominees of the Republican party. The names of Blaine and Logan were received with unrestrained applause. Speeches were made by Mr. Allaben and J. C. Watson, and then the addience as one man voted aye for the resolutions. One of these present attempted to mention The New-York Times, National Bank of Commerce, for embezzling $100,000 of the bank's reserve fund, has caused a decided sensation. The defalcation was discovered on Tuesday morning, but was kept quiet until late yesterday afternoon, when a Stanley was arraigned before United States Commissioner White this morning. He sat calmly and silently on a sofa in one corner of the United States Marshal's office placidly smoking a eiger. His attorneys, Homer B. De Wolf and Samuel M. Eddy, asked that the preliminary hearing be held open until 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon as they wished to consuit with each other and with their client. They were not prepared to say whether examination would be waived or not. Their client expected to remain in jail whether ball. AT MR. BLAINE'S HOME.

BUSY WITH CORRESPONDENCE-EXPRESSING NO OPINION ON TILDEN'S LETTER. IBY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.

Augusta, Me., June 12.-Mr. Blaine has been extremely busy all day. Many clerks were set to work on his correspondence this morning. Letters are distated by him with astonishing rapidity, and then signed by himself. No letter that requiring an answer will fail to receive a reply. Every one of his answers will bear his own autograph. A New-York dispatch in one of the Boston papers of to-day states that Mr. Blaine will be in that city on June 26, to be present at the organization of the new Republican National Committee, also that after that he will make a trip over the West Virginia Rail; road, of which he is a director, and that he will " stump the States of West Virginia, Ohio, New-York, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Indiana. This information con cerning Mr. Blaine's future movements is naws to those
